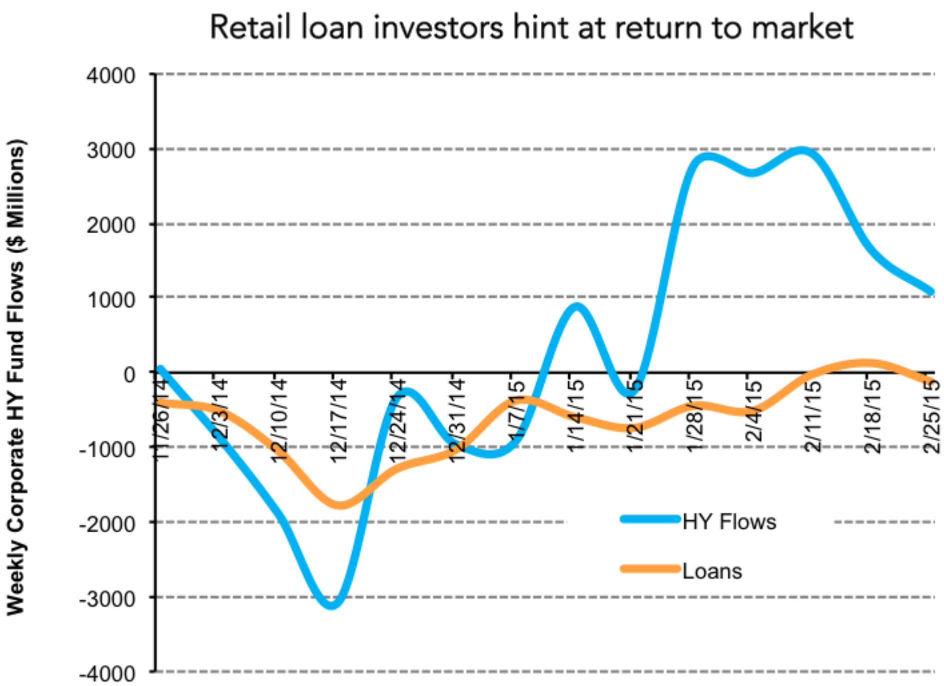
Leveraged Loan Insight & Analysis – Fund Flows

LSEG | March 4, 2015



limited deal flow pushes
the loan market. Thirty one nillion of inflows.

For the week ending February

25, net flows turned negative once again with over $118 million in outflows, bringing year to date total outflows to nearly $2.7 billion. Still, this figure is substantially lower than the weekly outflow observed just a few weeks ago. Among HY bond investors, weekly inflows have not only remained steady, but strong, to push year to date totals to nearly $11 billion.
