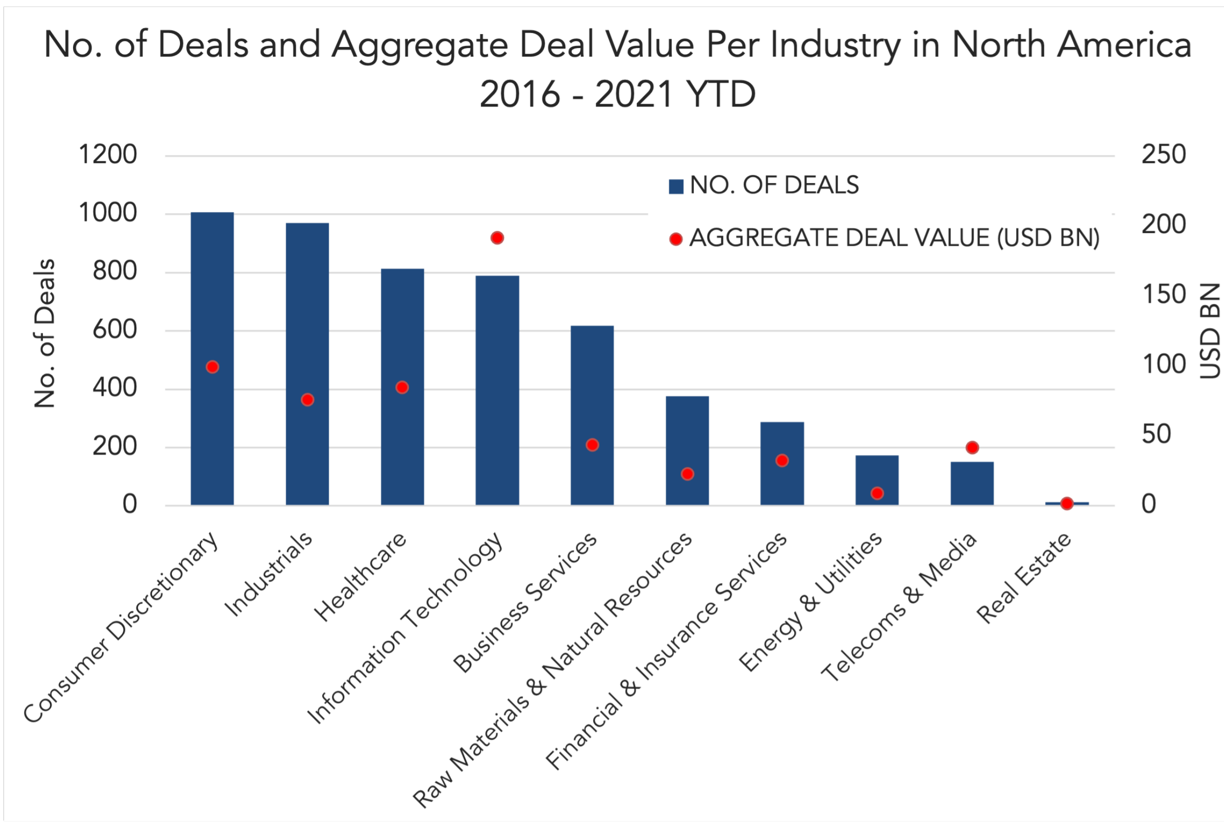
Private Debt Intelligence – 7/5/2021

THE LEAD | July 7, 2021

Consumer discretionary tops PD deal activity in North America

Chart



Download Data

[wpdm_package id=’46641?]

As an industry, consumer discretionary has seen the largest number of private debt deals in North America since 2016, at 1,007 deals with an aggregate deal value of $99.5bn. This includes a recent deal from Blackstone Group to buy Certified Collectibles Group, a company that verifies items like trading cards. Information technology, although not the largest by deal number at 789, outstrips all other industries with an aggregate deal value of $191.4bn.

(Past performance is no guarantee of future results.)

Contact: Laura Messchendorp
laura.messchendorp@preqin.com