Last week we highlighted the dominance of the information technology sector in private debt in North America. This week, we'll show the sector breakdown for Europe's PD industry in 2022. Although only 26 deals took place in the industrials sector year to date, the aggregate deal value stands at $5.2bn. This puts the sector well ahead of the next largest, healthcare with $3.1bn over 22 deals. Industrials value was boosted by the use of private debt in the $5.1bn acquisition of HomeServe Plc by Brookfield Asset Management, taking the company off the London Stock Exchange.
